- 2.3 The purpose of these Customer Engagement Terms is to confirm the terms of our

3. About the AML/CTF Act

- 3.1 The Anti-Money Laundering and Counter-Terrorism Financing Act 2006 (AML/CTF Act) requires a person who provides designated services to be a reporting entity.
- 3.2 Section 51B of the AML/CTF Act imposes a civil penalty on providers of designated services who do not enrol on the Reporting Entities Roll. If AUSTRAC prosecutes for non-enrolment, the penalty payable is determined by a court. The maximum penalty for a body corporate is 100,000 penalty units (currently $21 million). The maximum penalty payable by a person other than a body corporate is 20,000 penalty units (currently $4.2 million).
- 3.3 A reporting entity must develop, adopt, and maintain an AML/CTF Program that reflects its business circumstances and complies with the AML/CTF Act.
- 3.4 Under the AML/CTF reforms, the AML/CTF Program consists of two distinct but interrelated documents:
 - (a) ML/TF Risk Assessment—This document identifies, assesses, and manages the money ML/TF risks specific to the business.
 - (b) AML/CTF Policies—This document sets out the policies, procedures and control measures that the business implements to comply with its AML/CTF obligations.

Together, these documents form the overarching AML/CTF Program, ensuring a structured and effective approach to compliance.

- 3.5 The Act and the AML/CTF Rules also impose customer identification, reporting and record-keeping obligations.
- 3.6 AUSTRAC imposes an industry contribution levy, which is an annual payment that some reporting entities must pay. This levy covers AUSTRAC's operating costs. Whether you have to pay the levy depends on your earnings and the number and value of transactions you report.

- 4.2 It is expected that the Customer will appoint a fit and proper AML/CTF Compliance Officer responsible for implementing the AML/CTF Program and ensuring compliance with obligations under the Act.
- 4.3 The creation of the ML/TF Risk Assessment will be based on the Act and will include:
